Kao Pao Shu Spring/Summer 2015 Women's bag collection introduces a variety of classic and signature silhouettes in an extensive color palette that ranges from solids to vibrant patterns. The unique construction technique of building a three-dimensional form from strips of webbing and ribbons, together with the variety of shapes and colors, suits endless uses and personalities. The collection offers 12 different shapes in 15 color combinations, taking each shape from basic to bold to unexpected, and strikes a balance between practicality and flair for design and style lovers.
